

Question 5: Workforce Training and Assessment

Source: KYAE and KCTCS comprehensive databases

Status: Making Progress

Kentucky Adult Education and the Kentucky Community and Technical College System are the primary providers of workforce training and assessments to employers, an important economic development tool. In general, growth over the four-year period was driven by increases in essential skills and credit-based training, as employee skill assessments are on the decline.